Dear Friends,

Because of your support and involvement, we are building something very special at the Center for Real Estate. In 2019, your support clearly began to bear fruit.

Involvement with the Center is up across the board. The number of students we serve who are interested in real estate as a career has grown exponentially, creating increased demand for opportunities to interact with experienced professionals. Our members and friends have responded in force to this demand, as evidenced by strong support for each of our student focused initiatives.

By leveraging the Center’s constantly developing network of experts with national and global reputations, we were able to offer a number of cutting edge programs, such as our signature Breakfast Series and View from the C-Suite. These programs bring together professionals from Columbus and beyond and foster an environment of creativity, curiosity, and conversation.

We want to help our students understand the vast potential available across a broad spectrum of real estate careers. Through a variety of initiatives, such as case competitions, mentorship opportunities, and our annual career fair, we support students as they explore the many aspects of a real estate career. Students are welcome to attend any event we sponsor without charge, and many have availed themselves of these unique networking opportunities.

As an industry center at a level one research university, we offer research forums and grants to those interested in innovative and industry-advancing academic research.

In 2019, it seemed that all our collective hard work hit critical mass. We are fortunate to have continuing strong support from our membership, increased interest by the industry and students, and expanded partnerships with industry organizations. Due to the generosity of two major donors, we are able to increase our Center activities and the scholarships available for students. It truly feels we have achieved a tipping point in the Center’s activities. We are very grateful to all of you for your support and involvement. You are changing the lives of our students every day.

Finally, I’d like to thank Bobby Schottenstein, who has served as the Chair of our Executive Committee for the past several years. Although he will continue to sit on the Committee, in November Bobby passed the gavel to Brent Crawford. We are very grateful to Bobby for his vision and leadership, which had a direct impact on the Center’s success.

Sincerely,

Mary Beth McCormick
Executive Director

ENGAGEMENT

Providing opportunities for leaders from the real estate industry to learn and engage with each other and our students is integral to the Center’s goal of creating a vibrant real estate community at Ohio State. Our goal with every event is to provide timely, essential information in a setting that is conducive to both networking and growth. In 2019, the Center organized its fifth annual Real Estate Conference, continued the View from the C-Suite series, grew the Breakfast Panel Series, held its fourth annual Fall Dinner, and sponsored dozens of events for students. Here are a few highlights from an exciting year.

BREAKFAST SERIES

Capital Markets
January 25th | Mason Hall Rotunda

The Center welcomed a diverse panel of investors and experts on the current state of the capital markets including Edward Schwartz of ORG Portfolio Management LLC, George Tietjen of Sentinel Real Estate Corporation, Timothy Gallagher of Annaly Commercial Real Estate Group Inc., and DJ Effler of Bellwether Enterprise Real Estate Capital LLC. The panel had a wide ranging discussion on the current state of the economy, capital flows, current events, and how these factors present both risks and opportunities to commercial real estate investors globally and in the Midwest.

Urban Redevelopment
June 6th | Mason Hall Rotunda

The Center hosted a panel moderated by William Murdock, the Executive Director of the Mid-Ohio Regional Planning Commission. Also participating were Erin Prosser of Campus Partners, Brett Kaufman of Kaufman Development, and Jeffrey Beam of The Community Builders. Their robust discussion highlighted recent opportunistic redevelopments in Central Ohio and the challenges inherent in repositioning projects ranging from single assets to entire neighborhoods.
Sustainability
September 10th | Mason Hall Rotunda

The Center hosted a discussion on the implications of climate change and sustainability considerations for real estate investors. Our panelists, Mary Ludgin of Heitman Partners, Marjorie Tsang, formerly of the New York State Common Fund, and Madeline Wick of Almanac Realty Investors, tackled this difficult topic. They shared strategies and trends they are seeing as investors, landlords, and tenants plan for and adapt to the heightened risk from our changing environment.

Economic Outlook
November 21st | Mason Hall Rotunda

The Center welcomed Spencer Levy, the Chairman of Americas Research and Senior Economic Advisor for CBRE. Mr. Levy illustrated just how much the world has been transformed by innovation and technology over the past fifty years. These transformations have impacted each class of commercial real estate, from smaller markets like Baltimore to larger markets like New York. Mr. Levy, a frequent media presence, engaged and challenged the audience to think globally and be forward-thinking in their investment approach.
REAL ESTATE CONFERENCE
April 9th | Exchange at Bridge Park

The Center hosted its fifth annual Real Estate Conference at the Exchange at Bridge Park in Dublin, Ohio, featuring keynote speaker and father of urban planning, Andrés Duany.

The first session included presentations by Mr. Duany and Aaron Gruen of Gruen Gruen + Associates on housing affordability and attainability. Dr. Rachel Kleit of the Knowlton School of Architecture moderated the panel and facilitated questions from the audience.

Later, David Gilford of HR&A Advisors and Mr. Duany both presented on the opportunities and challenges inherent in technology and sustainability. This panel was moderated by Dr. Elena Irwin of the College of Food, Agricultural, and Environmental Sciences.

To conclude the event, Mr. Duany held his keynote address over dinner and dessert, which was followed by networking for all of the event’s attendees. This conference encapsulates everything the Center strives for, and we are grateful to each of our speakers and our sponsors for making it a success.
VIEW FROM THE C-SUITE

Eric Bolton
March 28th | Mason Hall Rotunda

Eric Bolton, the Chairman and CEO of MAA, joined us to talk about his experience leading a large, publicly traded real estate investment trust. With a total market enterprise valuation of approximately $16 billion, MAA is the largest owner-operator of multifamily housing in the United States. MAA holds a portfolio of over 300 apartment communities, comprising over 102,000 apartment homes. As Chair and CEO of MAA, Mr. Bolton has led the company through significant growth, including two large public M&A transactions, while delivering long-term shareholder investment returns that consistently rank in the top-tier of performances within the overall REIT sector.

Jack Kessler and Friedl Bohm
October 24th | Mason Hall Rotunda

The Center welcomed Friedl Bohm and Jack Kessler for a discussion of their landmark careers. Mr. Bohm was chairman of NBBJ for many years, and has served on the Board of Directors of companies including Huntington National Bank, TRC Companies, Allied Resource Corporation, and M/I Homes. Mr. Kessler is the owner of the John W. Kessler Company and founder and chairman of The New Albany Company. Both offered unique insights into their thought process as leaders, innovators, and builders.

FALL DINNER
November 7th | Franklin Park Conservatory

The Center held the fourth annual Fall Dinner, an invitation-only event for the Center’s members, their guests, and students. The event provides an opportunity for those in attendance to interact in a more relaxed and social setting, while celebrating the Center’s successes and recognizing scholarship recipients. This year, we honored the achievements of Friedl Bohm, former Chairman of NBBJ. During his long tenure there, he helped lead the firm to become the third largest architecture firm globally.
MENTORSHIP PROGRAM
This was our second year connecting Ohio State students with industry professionals through our mentorship program. This program is designed to give students access to an experienced individual to turn to for guidance, advice, and direction, and to help students broaden their professional networks, enhance their classroom experience, and prepare for and acquire insights into the job search process. The official program will conclude at the end of the academic year; however, we hope that this will provide the foundation for an on-going professional relationship.

This year, thirty-three students were paired with twenty-six mentors. Mentees and mentors regularly chatted over the phone, met for coffee, and toured the mentor’s workplace. Program participants have proven to be committed to these relationships, and as a result, lasting professional bonds have formed. Thank you to everyone who gave their time as a mentor in this program!

JUST ONE QUESTION SERIES
Beginning in April 2019, the Center launched this sit-down between its students and an industry icon. If selected, each student would receive fifteen minutes with the Center’s guest to discuss anything related to commercial real estate or their careers. The only question off limits to them was, “Will you hire me?” Thank you to Brent Crawford and Jack Kessler for offering our students advice and guidance in 2019.

WOMEN IN REAL ESTATE DINNER
September 9th | The Ohio State University Faculty Club
The Center sponsored its first annual Women’s Dinner focused on opportunities for women in real estate. The evening began with a networking hour to connect undergraduate and graduate students with an interest in real estate with women from across the country with established positions in the industry. Guests then enjoyed dinner and a facilitated discussion at each table. The dialogue included an acknowledgment of obstacles that women have faced in the industry, how they’ve dealt with those obstacles, and strategies for leveraging resources and community to optimize future chances of success.

Feedback from those who attended the event was immediate and overwhelmingly positive. We appreciate the strong support shown by our members for this event, many of whom have spoken of a desire for increased diversity in their workplace. We continue to search for ways to further this endeavor.

CAREER FAIR
September 11th | Blackwell Ballroom

This year, the Center for Real Estate coordinated its second annual Real Estate Career Fair and hosted over fifteen companies recruiting close to 150 Ohio State students for both internships and full-time positions. A variety of real estate companies were represented, ranging from local developers to large-scale banking institutions. This enabled students to find a company ideally suited to their real estate area of interest. This event was very well received by both students and professionals. We look forward to expanding the Career Fair in 2020.

THE FISHER REAL ESTATE SOCIETY

The Center sponsors student societies for both undergraduate and graduate students. In 2019, the Fisher Real Estate Society (FRES), the undergraduate association, sought to increase the organization’s sense of community, communication, and programming. FRES leadership held weekly meetings focused on real estate careers, trends, and current events; it launched a website for members to keep up to date with organization meetings; and it hosted guest speakers from OPERS, CBRE, Scott’s Miracle-Gro, Phillips Edison, Orange Barrel Media, and Colliers International.

Further, the Fisher Real Estate Society sponsored two site visits open to members: 810 North High, a Crawford Hoying development, which includes a WeWork office and Moxy Hotel, and One Nationwide Plaza, Headquarters of Nationwide Insurance.

The Graduate Chapter of the Fisher Real Estate Society launched a Happy Hour Industry Engagement Series in 2019. Designed to bridge the gap between the Fisher MBA program and the real estate industry, the series’ first event took place at North High Brewery and included a panel comprised of Chris Ellis of Greenworks Lending, Michael Simpson of NAI Ohio Equities, and Michael Copella of CBRE Columbus.

BROWN BAG LUNCH SERIES

Throughout 2019, the Center had the opportunity to host a number of commercial real estate professionals and leaders for a question and answer lunch session with some of our top students. These sessions are designed to connect students with professionals in a casual and discussion-based environment. Through this, students have expanded their professional network, gained meaningful insights, and received advice from some of the Center’s most knowledgeable contacts. We would like to thank the following people for giving their time and attention to our students:

David Adelman
CEO of Campus Apartments

David Gilford
Principal at HR&A Advisors, Inc.

Lisa Hurd
RENEW | Vice President of Capital Markets at The RADCO Companies

Spencer Levy
Chairman of Americas Research and Senior Economic Advisor for CBRE

Arun Singh
Vice President of MetLife Real Estate, Southeast Region

Sheri Thompson
RENEW | Senior Vice President at Walker & Dunlop

Matt Von Bargen
Associate at Morgan Stanley (now a Vice President at Crawford Hoying)

Associates from Welltower
The Center for Real Estate is dedicated to supporting students’ interest in the real estate industry and serving as a resource for interdisciplinary real estate education at Ohio State. In 2019, we saw that interest in real estate education among students enrolled at Fisher, as well as throughout the university, continued to grow.

We are housed at the Max M. Fisher College of Business and work closely with the Finance Department to assist in identifying areas of the curriculum primed for growth. We also support students at the Knowlton School of Architecture, the John Glenn School College of Public Affairs, and other disciplines throughout the University.

The Real Estate major and Interdisciplinary Real Estate minor are designed to teach core topics in real estate finance, city and regional planning, construction management, and prepare students for a variety of employment opportunities in the field of real estate.
SCHOLARSHIPS AND TRAVEL GRANTS

The Ohio State Center for Real Estate offers scholarships and travel grants every year to select undergraduate and graduate students. The Center continued to support student attendance at industry events around the country. Our small travel grants ($150 to $350) help defray students’ cost of travel to these events and provide valuable networking opportunities with industry professionals outside of the central Ohio region.

In 2019, twenty-five high-achieving students were awarded scholarships totaling over $41,400. Scholarships were awarded on the basis of academic achievement, financial need, and extracurricular involvement. Depending on the donor requirements, students were either selected by a scholarship committee for the Ohio Association of Realtors or a scholarship committee of Advisory Board members and Center staff. We are so thankful for the generous gifts made by our donors – the following scholarships were made possible by each of you.

Almanac Realty Investors/John D. McGurk Fund for Veterans at Ohio State

This year, the partners of Almanac Realty Investors established the Almanac Realty Investors/John D. McGurk Fund for Veterans at The Ohio State University. The fund will provide scholarships to military-connected students at Ohio State who demonstrate financial need and plan to pursue careers in real estate. The scholarship honors the memory of John D. McGurk, the founding partner of Almanac Realty Investors, who served in the United States Coast Guard during the Vietnam War, achieving the rank of ensign. These students were each awarded a $10,000 scholarship.

CASE COMPETITIONS

Villanova Real Estate Challenge
January 24th – January 28th

The 2019 Mulroy Real Estate Challenge at Villanova University offered our team of students the opportunity to compete in a remote, fast-paced case competition centered on the financial analysis, project feasibility, and design of a site in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Guelph Undergraduate Real Estate Competition
March 25th

The Center sponsored a team of four students who competed against teams from across Canada and the United States to propose a redevelopment plan along with a bid price for a brownfield site at 405 Eastern Ave, Toronto. Students were given six weeks to work through a comprehensive development that had to incorporate legal, physical, and financial analysis as well as creativity to address a redevelopment plan that would maximize the bid for the site. Congrats to the team for earning the “Best Market Analysis” award.

ULI Hines Competition
April 4th

For the past ten years, the Ohio State Center for Real Estate has collaborated with the Knowlton School of Architecture and the Columbus chapter of the Urban Land Institute (ULI) to organize and support graduate student teams from Ohio State in the national ULI Hines Competition. The 17th annual ULI Hines Student Competition challenged students to create a comprehensive development proposal for an area in Cincinnati, Ohio, comprising portions of a highway, the central business district, and the central riverfront along the Ohio River. Ohio State’s team proposal was recognized by the jury as an “Honorable Mention” for their detailed focus on Second Street, which dealt well with the significant problem of traffic and built on the entertainment district. The jury also recognized the outside-the-box graphic design.
NAIOP Case Competition
October 24th

Each year, the Center partners with Central Ohio NAIOP to put together a case competition to provide our students with an opportunity to compete locally and gain experience for external case competitions. In 2019, we had four teams of five students, each including four students from the Fisher College of Business and one from the Knowlton School of Architecture, in keeping with the interdisciplinary nature of the real estate industry. The teams developed proposals for the former Graham Ford site on West Broad Street. Each team was paired with a local senior real estate professional who served as a mentor, and the teams were provided with other resources, including a learning session on market analysis and financial modeling, access to CoStar, and contact information for market experts. The students produced impressive presentations, and the top team received a cash prize of $4,000. The Center would like to thank NAIOP Central Ohio and CoStar for making this opportunity possible for our students.

ICSC & Cornell International Real Estate Case Competition
May 19th and 20th

Four students from the Fisher College of Business were selected to travel to Las Vegas, Nevada to compete in the ICSC & Cornell International Retail Real Estate Case Competition. A dozen teams from universities in the United States, Canada, and Australia were tasked with putting together proposals to bring a retail real estate property to life. This competition allowed our students to put the knowledge and skills they’ve learned in the classroom to practice.
CONFERENCE AND SYMPOSIUM

PhD Conference on Real Estate and Housing
May 16th and 17th | Mason Hall Rotunda

Our annual PhD Conference on Real Estate and Housing brought together doctoral students from eight universities in an effort to foster a multidisciplinary understanding of real estate and housing related research. The conference is a result of a partnership between the Ohio State Center for Real Estate, the John Glenn College of Public Affairs, the Knowlton School of Architecture, and the Fisher College of Business. This event is a selective, refereed conference of research papers in all areas of real estate and housing.

This year, the keynote speaker was Dr. Susan Wachter of Wharton. Ten researchers from eight universities presented their findings to forty-one attendees, including assigned discussants for each paper. The awards for “Best Paper” went to two individuals: Caitlin Gorback from the University of Pennsylvania for her paper titled “Your Uber has Arrived: Ridesharing and Redistribution of Economic Activity” and Asad R. Khan from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign for his paper “Decentralized Zoning, Agglomeration, and City Structure: Evidence from Chicago’s Tradition of Aldermanic Privilege.”

Summer Real Estate Symposium
May 16th and 17th

Last summer, the Center partnered with some of the most illustrious real estate education institutions to sponsor the Summer Real Estate Symposium. This annual event’s purpose is to promote research, discussion, and collaboration on issues facing the real estate industry today.

We co-hosted the event with UC Berkeley, UCLA, Columbia, Cornell, National University of Singapore, UT-Austin, Wharton, Wisconsin, Rutgers and Baruch College at the Hyatt Regency in Huntington Beach.

GRANTS

The Center for Real Estate awarded grants to individuals dedicated to furthering research in the real estate industry. Congratulations to the following individuals for receiving these grants relating to their proposals:

Enrico Berkes: Technology and City Cycles

Hui Jeong Ha & Sohyun Park: Different Roles of LIHTC on the Migration Patterns by Economic and Ethnic Statuses: A Focus on Ohio’s MSAs

Andrew Van Leuven: Leveraging Main Street as a Real Estate Amenity: The Impact of Retail Corridor Revitalization on Residential Property Values

Aram Yang: How a Hospital Contributes to Affordable Housing Provision: Lessons from the Nationwide Children’s Hospital
RECOGNITION

David Adelman
The Center would like to formally thank and recognize David Adelman for his $250,000 commitment to our continued growth and improvement. Mr. Adelman currently serves as the CEO of Campus Apartments in Philadelphia, PA. This gift will be a great help in our quest of providing real estate education, engagement, and research to our members.

Almanac Realty Investors
We are grateful to the partners of Almanac Realty Investors for their great generosity in establishing the Almanac Realty Investors/John D. McGurk Fund for Veterans. Their $250,000 commitment will allow us to provide significant financial aid for students with military experience and an interest in real estate.

Advisory Board
The Ohio State Center for Real Estate relies on its Advisory Board members for financial support to grow and sustain its education, research, and outreach activities. It includes the top executives in all disciplines of real estate from Ohio and beyond. Members offer the Center input on programming, internships and mentorships for students, and their time on various subcommittees. The Center is grateful for the ongoing commitment of its Advisory Board members and everything they do to advance and elevate real estate at Ohio State. In 2019, the Advisory Board was comprised of 74 members.

Executive Committee
A small group of our Advisory Board members serve on our Executive Committee, which is actively involved with the Center’s strategic planning and provide continuous input on the Center’s goals and activities through regular board meetings. In 2019, 17 industry leaders made up the Executive Committee. Mr. Robert Schottenstein, CEO of M/I Homes, was Executive Committee chair until November, at which point his term concluded and Brent Crawford, CEO of Crawford Hoying, began his term.

Center for Real Estate Scholarship Subcommittee
The Scholarship Subcommittee assists the Center with the student scholarship selection process by reviewing resumes, reading essays, and interviewing applicants. We would like to thank the following individuals for their time throughout this process: Maia Cooper of Woda Cooper Companies, Matt Von Bargen of Crawford Hoying, and City of Bexley Mayor Ben Kessler.

McGurk Scholarship Subcommittee
The McGurk Scholarship Subcommittee is responsible for deciding the recipients of the newly established Almanac Realty Investors/John D. McGurk Fund for Veterans. We would like to thank the members of this subcommittee, who knew John McGurk personally: Michael Pia of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, Scott Dorsey of Merritt Companies, Brad Sturm of the Ohio Public Employee Retirement System, and Moreen McGurk.

Research Subcommittee
The Research Subcommittee is responsible for the evaluation and selection of research grant program submissions based on their significance to the real estate industry. We would like to thank the following individuals for their time and expertise: Jill Tangeman of Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease LLP, Timothy Gallagher of Annaly Capital Management, and Robert Zerbst, formerly of CBRE Global Investors.
