Graduate Certificate in IT Business Strategy

Advances in technology are continual, accelerating, and impacting business like never before. This creates a challenge for businesses. Information Technology (IT) used to be a support function within the business providing a technology infrastructure, but moving forward, IT must also be a driver of business strategy and growth.

From having a SEAT at the table ➡ To having a VOICE at the table

To truly have a voice at the business strategy table, and to transform their departments in a dynamic business landscape, IT leaders must be able to:

- Anticipate, assess and prioritize how the organization responds to ever-changing market forces
- Demonstrate an understanding of finance, data-driven decision-making and strategy to solve problems and make informed decisions

The Graduate Certificate in IT Business Strategy prepares IT professionals to lead their organizations into the future.
