April 4, 2018: Deloitte DUET: Deloitte and Universities Enhancing Together Conference NY, NY Ken Boyer attended this annual event sponsored by Deloitte SC Consulting. Several Deloitte consultants facilitated a day of discussions and planning for initiatives around Accessibility, Awareness and Appeal for women in supply chain careers. The objective is to partner Deloitte and university representatives to work with young women in undergraduate and MBA programs to consider, enter and thrive in supply chain management careers. University representatives from Pennsylvania State University (Smeal College of Business), Ohio State University (Fisher College of Business), Brigham Young University (Marriott School of Business), University of Tennessee (Haslam School of Business), University of Southern California (Marshall) and the University of Wisconsin attended the conference.

Pictured is the entire group, including Eric Mundt (Fisher/OSU MBA Alum c/o 2016) holding the rainbow painting – this was the icebreaker activity where participants envisioned and painted pictures of their goals and plans for a more diverse supply chain workforce. Thanks to Deloitte for sponsoring, organizing and delivering on this event and commitment to supporting women in supply chain!
