- Represents more than 15% of all persons employed, marketing plays an ever-increasing role in our economy

PREPARATION

- Generally, a master’s degree is preferred for marketing research and brand management
- Most marketing positions require an outgoing personality, clarity of self-expression and skill in the area of human relations
- Employers stress such qualities as personal motivation, initiative, drive and creativity
- Analytical ability combined with the ability to identify and solve problems is required in market research and logistics

CAREERS

Marketing is often divided along two lines:
Sales: Identify customer needs and help to deliver existing products and services to the customer
Marketing: Assess customer wants and help to plan and promote products and services to satisfy those wants (often to well defined groups of customers)
Sales and marketing both attract professionals who will perform many specialized functions and build expertise in many specialized fields and industries.

ACTION STEPS FOR STUDENTS EXPLORING SPECIALIZATIONS

TALK TO PEOPLE
Informational interviewing is a method of career exploration and a way of discovering jobs not publicly advertised. It is not the same as a job interview. Informational interviews allow you to gain “inside information” regarding career paths, alternate careers that will use your skills, and people to contact who may be looking for an employee like you.

PEER CAREER COACHES
Meet with a Peer Career Coach in the Office of Career Management and Peers Advisors in the Undergraduate Programs Office. They are students who are happy to talk with you and answer questions about their experience in selecting a specialization.

GET INVOLVED
Student organizations are a great way to meet new people (alumni, employers, and peers) and to learn about specializations. There are over 30 student organizations in Fisher.
